CLIPONREKA CULLINGS

By Your Roaming Reporter

TO MY SIX "CONSTANT READERS"

Aha... Leodel, you see I am building up a "clientele" of readers. Several weeks ago I had one and now the number has run up to six. I imagine your subscribers list is piling up at a rapid rate and there is no question but what sooner or later you will be forced to answer your conscience (if you have one) and raise my pay again. You know it isn't possible to raise and feed (not to mention furnish "permanents") for a healthy family on a measly $1,000 a week. I suggest that you talk it over with McAllister, Raymond Kennedy and Col. Bull Dorman, and begin to make arrangements. And another thing: Leodel, don't... DON'T... make any more cracks like that about Collegeboro, pretty gals, and etc. If you had been married forty years to a beautiful woman, and suddenly became famous, you'd know how to keep quiet in several different languages. Good cooks are powerful skane now-days, and whether you realize it or not, a great deal of my natural brilliancy (Percy, how's that for a hot one) comes from being well fed and enjoying loving consideration. "AND GENTLE treatment." "If that Collegeboro stuff, for it seems to me that Dr. Pittman really stole something from Hollywood when it comes to "picking 'em." Every year they grow more beautiful, wasn't that what you told me last week, George Johnson?

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN. Last week some twenty five Kinglets, stopped, by to see us at our Manor at Poverty Hill, and just as we began to know them and learn their names, we suddenly missed them. John Everett made a dirty crack: "Why didn't you feed 'em?" But we treated that one like the other stuff he says, just didn't notice it at all. But seriously if you find these beautiful little birds we are offering a last years almanac (slightly used) for their prompt return. Frankly, we didn't know what they were until the gift Miss Trussell, of Collegeboro, told us their names. They are among the best of birds, much smaller than an English Sparrow, not so fat and squabby, about the same color, and very graceful. Worth said they were "stream-lined" sparrows, Donald described them as being "baby mocking birds," and Mike decided they were "overgrown humming birds," so finally the argument got so hot that we started out to see Miss Trussell or John DeLoach, knowing they could provide the answer. (Note: If you get stumped on Nature stuff, in either the latter animal kingdom, those two constitute our idea of authority. It seems to you they KNOW just about EVERYTHING about birds and flowers.) Miss Trussell, did not tell us from whence they had come, but did say they were in transit and had merely stopped to look us over, fill up their pantry and wing their way onward. My neighbor opines what a wonderful advantage these migratory birds have over us. When debts grow burdensome, when notes come due, when politics get rotten, when the neighbors start to "acting up," how grand it would be to tuck a few biscuits under the wing, call in the baby members of our family, fold our little tent, and steal away on the wind of early morning, leaving the mortgage holders to wonder and wait. (The irate banker who holds the third paper on the bicycle wants to know if he hasn't spent the last decade "wondering and waiting" already.)

According to the old watch and chain it is about time for the evening mail. Already the boys and girls belonging to the "famed upper crust" of society are gathering for the daily event, but the time-revered custom of "meeting the mails" has sort of lost its tinge of excitement for me. I can not agree with the winsome little blond who simply boils over with excitement at the sight of a lavender-scented envelope which assures her that "her sweetie still adores her," who expressed herself to the postmaster recently by explaining: "Mr. Walter, I think 'GETTING MAIL' is the grandest thing. Don't you?" Of course now there are several kinds of mail. Firstly, there is my regular pile of "tin mails," so hurriedly handed me that postal card let me read it again). Then there is a

STATSBORO METHODIST CHURCH REVIVAL BEGINS SUNDAY

Rees is to preach his first sermon Monday night at 8 o'clock. Rev. Rees is a fine preacher and a most lovable man. The people of Statesboro will be delighted with his ministry. Mrs. Leslie D. Johnson will lead the singing. Mrs. Johnson is a musician as well as a good song leader.

The public is cordially invited to all of the services. N. H. Williams, Pastor, Statesboro Methodist Church.

Young turkeys' requirements for vitamin G are about the same as for baby chicks, but their requirements for vitamins A and D are much higher than the needs of chickens.

High School Band To Give Concert Sunday

Sunday afternoon at four o'clock in the High School auditorium the Statesboro High School Band, under the direction of Marion Carpenter, will present a concert of band and popular music.

Mr. Carpenter states that this appearance of the band promises its appearance at Milledgeville, when it will compete with other high school bands for the state's best.

The band has grown from about 16 members until it is now a well organized unit of 33 members.

The public is invited to the concert. There will be no charge for admission, but a volunteer concert will be asked for, with which to help defray the expenses of the trip to Milledgeville.

SUPERIOR COURT TO CONVENE HERE MONDAY

The April term of Bulloch Superior Court will convene here on Monday morning with Judge William Woodruff presiding.

The April term will be the 3rd session of Superior Court this year. The January term was recessed on account of legislative proceedings involving Judge Woodruff. Earlier this month Judge Woodruff held a five-day session for the January adjourned term.

S. H. S. STUDENTS ATTEND PAPER FESTIVAL IN SAVANNAH

Superintendent Sherman notified faculty members to cut their class periods short last Wednesday morning in preparation for dismissal of classes at eleven o'clock. This was done to enable the students of the public schools to attend the paper festival in Savannah.

HOG AND CATTLE MARKET HIGHER THIS WEEK WITH HEAVY RUN

According to Mr. O. L. McLeone, manager of the Bulloch Stock Yards both the hog and cattle market was higher than it was last week, with an extra large run of good, fat cattle.

POTASH APPLIED AT CHOPPING MADE THE DIFFERENCE

If you did not apply enough potash at planting time or if your cotton rusts, it will cost little to apply more potash in a nitrogen-potash top-dresser. The increased yields, control of rust, reduced wilt injury, and improved quality which will result from this extra potash will return the small investment many times. Heavier bolls, more lint per seed, longer staple, stronger fibers, and easier picking also result. An increase of $15 to $25 per acre in the value of the crop due to the extra potash has been secured in practical field tests and experimental work.

Your county agent or experiment station will tell you whether you applied enough potash at planting time. See your fertilizer dealer or manufacturer about adding the equivalent of 50-100 lbs. of muriate of potash in a nitrogen-potash top-dresser. Keep your plants growing vigorously into the profits which you plan to make this year.

THE END IS NEAR

Friday, April 28th is the last day 3,000 votes can be issued on a year's subscription to The Bulloch Herald. This is the most important period in the entire campaign.

IF ANYONE GAINS A LEAD FRIDAY, HE IS LIKELY TO WIN THE $500. THIS IS A VERY CLOSE RACE. AS YOU CAN SEE BY THE RECORDS WHEN THE CAMPAIGN HAS CLOSED, THERE MAY NOT BE ONE FIVE YEAR SUBSCRIPTION DIFFERENCE WHEN THE PRIZES ARE AWARDED.

1-5 year subscription now counts 85,000 votes. 1-5 year subscription now is only $5.00 and will be $7.50 after the campaign closes.

Names of contestants are in alphabetical order. This is not the standing of the contestants:

MRS. W. H. (Alice Katherine) AMASON. MRS. COHEN ANDERSON. MRS. MAMIE LOU KENNEDY. MRS. A. J. TRAPNELL.

PAY FOR YOUR BULLOCH HERALD WHILE IT IS ONLY $1.00, AND THE VOTES ISSUED ON IT MAY CAUSE A FRIEND TO WIN $500.

Contestants: It is better to have 500,000 votes too many than to lose the $500 by one or two subscriptions. In many races of this kind there are not more than five subscriptions difference in the major prize winners.

There is a great difference in $500 and $200. WISHING WILL NOT WIN-IT TAKES VOTES.

Two Livestock Sales Net County Schools $271.98

Donated By Local Livestock Commission Company

In a letter addressed to H. P. Womack, county school superintendent, F. C. Parker of the Statesboro Livestock Commission Company enclosed a check for $271.98 representing the amount of money realized from the two weeks livestock sales held for the benefit of the county schools.

In his letter to Mr. Womack, Mr. Parker stated "I am grateful to the people of Bulloch county and surrounding counties for making this contribution possible for the support of your schools. I wish to especially call your attention to the fact that a large part of this amount was made possible due to our entire office force and auctioneers working the sales for nothing. I wish to convey my appreciation to the following men in our organization, for their support: Mr. W. Waters, W. D. Lee, E. G. Cromartie, Roy Smith, Julian Groover, W. B. Beasley and J. H. Wyatt. These men have really contributed a substantial portion of the above amount."

Mr. Womack stated that the Board of Education had authorized him to thank Mr. Parker and the members of his organization for making possible this substantial sum of money to be used in keeping the schools of Bulloch county open for the balance of this school year. The members of the board are: W. C. Cromley, chairman; E. L. Womack, J. A. Metts, Floyd Nevils and Ethan D. Proctor.

Plans are complete for the three day conference on "The Progressive School in Principle and Practice" which will be held at the South Georgia Teachers College, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, as the Fifth Annual Georgia Progress Day program.

With Dr. William H. Kilpatrick and Dr. Paul J. Misner will lead the discussions in the three day period of classes. Dr. Misner will apply the practical side to Dr. Kilpatrick's theories. Misner is superintendent of the Glenside, Ill. public schools, which have received national-wide publicity as a modern public school system. Dr. Kilpatrick, professor emeritus of the Teachers College, Columbia University, is known throughout the nation as "the world's greatest classroom teacher."

The program will begin Thursday afternoon with conferences. At eight o'clock Thursday evening there will be an address by Dr. Misner in the college auditorium to which the public is invited. On Friday there will be conferences beginning at 9 a. m., 2 p. m., and 8 p. m., when Dr. Kilpatrick will lead a general discussion. There will be a series of final conferences at nine o'clock Saturday morning.

Four Generations At Perkins Birthday Party

Sunday, April 23rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Hill, Clifton, the relatives, neighbors and the friends of Mrs. R. H. (Willie) Perkins honored her with a basket dinner in celebration of her 84th birthday. Having lived in the Clifton neighborhood for many years, she is beloved by all who know her, and about 85 persons were present to do honor to her on her birthday.

Born in Troup county, near La Grange, in 1855, "Grandma" Perkins has had a long and active life, a great deal of which has been spent in Bulloch. She moved here something like thirty years ago and has lived to see her many daughters and one son marry, settle down and raise families. One daughter is Mrs. Minnie Best, one Mrs. Walter V. Hill and the son, who lives at Brooklet, is well known as one of the leading citizens of that community, Mr. E. W. Perkins.

Four generations were represented at the dinner, besides a number of friends. Among these were Lewis M. Etheridge, who only recently celebrated his 76th birthday, J. S. Stuckey, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deal and children, Mrs. A. J. Deal, Miss Cecilia Minner, Dolly, Clotus and dead. She attributes her unusual longevity to the fact that she has always been busy—in fact too busy to get sick.

Grand Jury Ask Cooperation In Saving Fish

Closed Season For Fish Suggests Recommendation

We, the Grand Jurors, chosen and sworn to serve at the April 1939 term of Bulloch Superior Court submit the following recommendations:

The term of office of W. C. Cromley, N. P., and Ex-Officio J. P. for the 1523rd district having expired it is recommended that he be reappointed.

Whereas, we find that there is now no active game warden in this county; and whereas the closed season for fishing in our streams will continue through the month of May; and whereas we feel that the stock of fish in our streams will be depleted if the laws of the closed season are not adhered to; we urge, in view of the emergency now existing, all citizens of the county to cooperate in apprehending all violators of the law.

The Chaining Committee appointed at the October 1938 term of Superior court reported to this body, (for their report see exhibit "A").

F. W. Hughes, A. E. Temples, and W. L. McElven were appointed a committee to inspect the convict camp and make an inventory of the county's Ex-Officio property and submit same to the Grand Jury of the next term of Bulloch Superior Court.

S. Edwin Groover, S. D. Alderman and E. W. Parrish were appointed a committee to examine the books of the Justice of the Peace and N. P. Ex-Officio J. P. of the county. (For their report see Exhibit "B").

W. A. Hodges, Arthur Howard and W. A. Groover were appointed a committee to examine the various buildings of the county (For their report see Exhibit "C").

Report from County Commissioners was made by Fred W. Hodges. We note that thoughtful steps to reduce expenses to balance decreased revenue are being made and we recommend that no let up in the drive to collect back taxes be made.

Report from County School Superintendent was made by Mr. H. P. Womack. We note that no additional money from the State's General School Fund will be available for the balance of the school year.

We recommend that Rex Twigg be appointed to fill the vacancy in the office of the N. P. and Ex-Officio J. P. for the 1716th District, created when Mr. Eubanks moved away.

We recommend that the Bulloch Times be paid the sum of $5.00 for publishing these presentations.

We wish to thank his honor Judge Woodruff for his charge to this body and Solicitor General W. G. Neville for the valuable assistance rendered us.

Respectfully submitted, T. A. HANNAH, Foreman. APRIL 25, 1939.

J. A. PAFFORD NAMED TO HEAD BROOKLET SCHOOL

(Special to Herald)

BROOKLET, Ga.—At a recent meeting of the local board of trustees of the Brooklet High School, J. A. Pafford of Douglas was elected superintendent for the schools here for the 1939-40 term.

At the request of the present superintendent, J. H. Griffith, who has been superintendent of the schools here for the 1938-39 term, Mr. Pafford, has served as principal and athletic director of the schools here for the 1938-39 term.

The newly elected superintendent, Mr. Pafford, has served as principal and athletic director of the schools here for the 1938-39 term.

The payments now being delivered is the 24 cents per pound for the normal yield of cotton on the allotted acreage, 1 cent per pound on tobacco and the $150 per unit for soil building practices. An additional payment of 1.5 cents per pound for the normal yield of cotton on the 1938 allotted acreage will be made to cooperating farmers who do not exceed the quota.

The payments for the 1938 co-operation has been delayed to the Bulloch farmers for some two months due to an effort on the part of the committee to save all the tobacco acreage possible for the county. Had the committee certified to the applications for pay before January 1, Bulloch county tobacco quota would have been several hundred acres shorter. It will not be possible for committee to withhold applications in the future for this purpose. Each farm will have to be certified to with exactly the tobacco quota wanted on it by the field reporters.

POST OFFICE TO GET FACE LIFTED FOR SPRING

Mr. George T. Groover, Post Master, announced this week that bids for renovating the local post office will be opened at two o'clock Friday afternoon, May 12.

He stated that the bamboo which has grown in front of the post office for years will be dug up and replaced with grass. The old hitching rail at the rear of the building will be replaced with a concrete curb and the driveway around the building will be replaced.

UNITED GEORGIA FARMERS TO MEET HERE SATURDAY

The Bulloch county chapter of the United Georgia Farmers will hold a county-wide meeting Saturday, April 29, at 10 a. m. in the court house, W. H. Smith, president of the organization, announced.

Community chairmen have been contacting prospective members and holding meetings during the past two weeks, according to Mr. Smith. The results of this membership drive will be announced Saturday.

R. M. Stiles, president of the Georgia chapter of the organization, will meet with the local chapter Saturday. R. G. Arnold, representative of the National Farm Bureau, also expected to attend the meeting.

REVLIN SERVICES CONTINUE AT METHODIST CHURCH

The revival services at the Methodist Church are now in progress with Rev. A. W. Rees, pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of Savannah, doing the preaching.

Mrs. Leslie Johnson is the song leader. The meeting will continue through this week, and probably into next week. All are cordially invited to attend these meetings, which are held at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m.

A SAD TALE—

In the state of Georgia there are a number of Farmer's markets operated for the benefit of the Georgia farmer. Buyers come to these markets well heeled with cash eager to exchange for fresh Georgia produce. Now the sad part of the story is that the Georgia farmer, and his produce have been absent in large quantities. Farmers from other states have been lapping up that cash. The Georgia farmer is not only failing to supply these markets with produce for which buyers are offering good cash but are failing to feed himself.

The Editors Uneasy Chair—

THE ALMANAC SAYS THE WEATHER

Today, April 27, will be unsettled.
Friday, April 28, will be stormy.
Saturday, April 29, will be unsettled.
Sunday, April 30, showers.
Monday, May 1, cool.
Tuesday, May 2, frosts (what does the almanac mean . . . frost on the 2nd day of May).
Wednesday, May 3, warmer.
BUT DON'T BLAME US IF THE ALMANAC
IS WRONG.WE KNEW IT . . . WE JUST KNEW IT . . .
We knew all the time we were going to get mixed up in that Roaming Reporter-Eminent Barrister fracas over a last year's Easter hat. We had determined to keep out of it but Colonel Tomlin-son came into our office last week and put on such a sad story of the unfair advantage the R.
R. had over him in this case of "The Innocent Easter Hat" (we are sure of only that one thing—that the hat is innocent of being a hat) that we broke down and actually cried. (We are a sucker for anyone with a sad story or a tear in his eye), and in the end we promised to go to bat for him.THE COLONEL'S CONTENTION IS THAT THE Roaming Reporter took advantage of him in as much as he can fill all his "Collum" in our paper with tripe about him. Said the Col. "Snot fair
. . . 's a low down trick . . . 's taking advantage of his position . . . and I don't have a chance
. . . why the constitution says . . ." (here the Colonel launched into such a diatribe on what the constitution says to your editor squirmed in his already too uneasy chair).THE UPSHOT OF THE VISIT WAS THAT THE Colonel completely won our sympathy. So gentle readers (We now have three . . . That makes nine readers of our paper now. Our Roaming Reporter claims six and we believe that Colonel Tomlinson must have read our paper cause he was sure upset when he came in to see us and put up that sad story, which makes ten readers in all) you now see us in the role of a friend of the under-dog.SO HERE WE GO OFF TO THE WARS . . . has anyone seen that Roaming Reporter? We want to tell him a thing or two . . . a thing or two . . . who does he think he is anyway? Just because we pay him a $1M per week (memo to our secretary: remind us to reduce the R. R. salary to paper and stamps next week) that doesn't give him the right to go galavanting off on making slurring cracks about what might be mistaken for a perfectly good Easter Bonnet . . . why we saw the thing and it's really a honey . . . and writing about a pore defenseless person.HEY . . . NOW LET US THINK. If we go and let our heart run off with our head about this thing our R. R. might get in a huff and up and resign and then we lose six readers . . . and I won't be able to deduct that $1M from our income tax report . . . Oh well I'll take the consequences . . . he'll be sorry.So Colonel, if you wish you may fight the R. R. with his own fire. Our columns are open to you.
Fire away. Better duck R. R.

when the said Mark was in a humorous frame of mind, he "guessed more had been said about the weather than most any other subject, and less done about it," but this time it will be different.WHY JUST LAST WEEK, down at the Paper festival in our sister city of Savannah, the weather man promised those high functionaries who run the city by the sea, a perfect three days. What happened? I'll tell you what (confidentially of course). Well they made a whole lot of paper floats and dressed the beauties of the South in paper dresses, creating the whole shebang down Bull street. It seems that just as they passed the weather man's office he turned on the hose with the result that he came out of town just 95 yards ahead of the hot polloi and those who had clocked him out Ogechee road testify that he was "doing the 100' in 9 1/2 flat and when he passed Midway was still gaining on the crowd.SOME ROUGHNECK (I'll bet it was that old Tomlinson) said maybe the weather man just wanted to see how beautiful a paper dress would look after it got a good soaking. Well I never let my mind degenerate into such idle speculation, tho I imagine a fellow could have gone to town selling tickets for the show. However what I plan to do is to "forecast" the weather backwards. Instead of trying to guess what the weather is going to do tonight and tomorrow and where, I plan to "back-cast" what it did yesterday and maybe the day before. After all, it is only a matter of twenty four hours and my cast will be accurate, dependable and absolutely reliable. Now take the average weather report and what does it say: Either cloudy or fair, mostly overcast, with possible showers here and there.
Some scattered breezes throughout the states.
Now I have not copyrighted this "back-cast" and I may present it to the government with my complaints, for after all I believe it will be worth as much to we farmers and gardeners as the present method. Just watch for it, and if the public think well of the plan maybe I'll write an almanac, provided I can get Jack Murphy to introduce me.SPEAKING OF THE PAPER FESTIVAL, my baby son, Horace, came home with this one. It seems that a Statesboro gang, which included Roger Holland and a few friends were lined up in front of Morrison's cafeteria, hoping to get in at some future time. While they were standing in line, which extended clear out into the street, a wandering friend who looked like he probably came from Gum Branch, and who had evidently looked on the wine when it was deep red, pulled up in front of Roger and addressed him: "Shay, young feller, I shay what's goin on in there?" Roger had to catch his breath before he answered, and the old guy repeated the question: "I jus ast you a civil question. Now answer me a civil anser or else. What's goin on in that air place?" Roger probably thought it was about time to speak his little piece and so he turned to the old man and said: "Why we're going in here for dinner," adding "You know this is Morrison's cafeteria." But this didn't faze the old man in the least and he came back at Roger: "You say this is Miss Morris' whatyou call'em, eh? An all that dern crowd is pilin in there fer dinner, an the din room is plum full already. Well, I'll be danged if you don't eat Miss Morris out uv house & home, that's what you're goin to do." And having delivered his ultimatum, he caught a tack in his sails and calmly put out to sea down Whitaker street.DON'T EVER DOUBT THE ADVERTISING pull of the Herald. Boy, what it takes the Herald has, believe you me. If you remember just last week, we advertised for our Kinglets, those tiny, stream-lined birds about the size of a humming bird with the general appearance of a sparrow.
Well we haven't decided just how they got word, and in fact we don't know that they did, but at any rate just after the Herald appeared last week they came back, the whole kit and caboodle of them. And that reminds me that the week after our story about the Orioles who hadn't returned, the same identical Mr. and Mrs. who nested in our front peach tree for the past two years came sailing in about 5:30 p. m., and the following morning early Mr. Oriole was showing off his voice to Mrs. Mc's kitchen window Oleander.
Really in all the past years the little fellows have visited us, they never impressed me with theirbeauty as much as they have this season. Their coloring seems much brighter and their bird call a lot sweeter. Some one once said "you never miss the water, 'till the well goes dry" and it is possible that we wouldn't have appreciated their visit so much had it not happened they were so late. They've really become like old friends and it began to look like they had slighted us. All of which reminds us that LIFE had a swell story this week of the Robins. Did you see it? It is one of the finest things LIFE, which is always interesting, has done. Get it, if you have to break into the book store.MRS. MARTHA CONE BENSON tells me this one. Maybe you don't recognize Dyer's efficient and charming secretary by her complete name but if you will recall about a year ago, this cousin of the Reporter succeeded in persuading Martha to change her name. (I don't know whether it was for better or worse, but up to the present both of them seem pleased with the change. So that's that!!!!). Well, anyway, Martha says one day last week one good old cussed brother dragged his toll worn body up Dyer's steps to inquire "ef dem consolation checks had cum." Martha, who had heard the conservation checks called by various names had to smile at this new one, but speaking from several years experience, she believes this is as yet the best name. It is her opinion that, judging from the smile of joy they always produce on the recipient, probably they are a lot more consoling than the literature usually received by the farmer. She says that up to that one probably the prize should go to the fellow who inquired last year for his "gumment charity" checks when he meant to call for his "parity." (Note to C. J.
Martin, Mayor of Nevils, Please tell your neighbor, the Rev. J. Dan that his check hasn't come, but they are expecting his old age pension any day. Just have faith, Dan.AND AS I LOOK OUT MY casement window, here in what the negroes call "de po-house," "day is dying in the west, the lowing herd wind slowly o'er the lea," and shortly they'll "leave the world to darkness, and to me" and so we come to the good night period. This has been a beautiful day, the roses are a riot of color, the better 7-8th has been in a grand humor, the chillun are fine, thank you, and not a tinge of regret comes as I review the recent past. No dums, notices of being overdrawn, or reminders of past due notes have marred the peaceful passage of time . . . and Thank God, no insulting observations from that Tomlinson thing. Truly, it is well . . . IT IS WELL with my soul.

WORDS OF THE WISE

After speech, silence is the greatest power in the world.He who serves the public is a poor animal; he who worries himself to death and no one thanks him for it.—Goethe.The crowns of kings do not prevent those who wear them from being tormented sometimes by violent headaches.—Plutarch.Count it one of the highest virtues upon earth to educate faithfully the children of others, which so few, and scarcely any, do by their own.— Luther.A mugwump is a person educated beyond his intellect.—Horace Porter.A politician weakly and amiably in the right is no match for a politician tenaciously in the wrong.—Whipple.Where you are is of no moment, but only what you are doing there. It is not the place that en-nobles you, but you in the place; and this only by doing that which is great and noble.As riches and favor forsake a man, we discover him to be a fool; but nobody could find it out in his prosperity.It is far more easy to pull down than build up, and to destroy than to preserve. Revolutions have on this account been falsely supposed to be fertile of great talent; as dogs rise to the top during a fermentation, and the lightest things are carried highest by the whirlwind.—Colton.There are moments when petty slights are harder to bear than even a serious injury. Men have died of the festering of a gnat-bite.Subtly may deceive you; integrity never will.

Automobile Death Rate DecreasesFigures showing a decline in the number of automobile fatalities in the United States may be traced to an increasing use of Goodyear Lifeguards, according to a statement by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., of Akron, O.Survey of the Automobile Manufacturers' Association reveals the number of auto deaths decreased 21 per cent in 1938 over 1937.
"Lifeguards are one of the best safeguards of fatal accidents," declares Pound Service Station, local Goodyear dealer."However, all danger from this source is removed. If casing and tube blowout or suddenly fail from any cause, the Life Guard remains inflated and supports the car until it can be brought to a smooth, safe stop."There is no lurching or weaving, and the driver retains full use of the steering wheel and the brakes," continued Mr. Pound. Infact, a blowout with Life Guards becomes no more serious than a slow leak; an inconvenience, to be sure, but not a danger to life and limb."Owners everywhere are becoming more and more conscious of the fact that this sure protection is available. Hundreds of thousands of Life Guards are now in use on cars of all makes and models. We have received many testimonials setting forth that cars equipped with them have sustained blowouts, even at high speeds, without the slightest danger. Undoubtedly, many other drivers have had similar experiences without taking the trouble to tell the company about the incident. So, I think the conclusion is reasonable that the great and growing popularity of Life Guards has been a factor in cutting down the number of fatalities.There can be no question that a calm driver is better than a nervous one."

All's Fair...

When so many good things are happening, it is with us that we could just be two or three people. When we heard about what a wonderful time Mary Akins, Sara Morris, and Ethel Rushing had in Augusta at the P. T. A. Convention we felt almost green with envy. Get them back at the Partridge Inn. Across the entire end of the lovely breakfast room crepe paper in rainbow colors formed an arc. Colored lights underneath made it a gorgeous rainbow, in-ah-bow! And as a pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow was the P. T. A.

Cosch and Marion Smith's children have gone to college—to visit a T. C. girl for the weekend and nobody in Statesboro was busier than Susanne and Happy as they packed sport clothes, warm coats and whatever a co-ed needs over the weekend.

Comments from Caroline Kea's wedding: 'Twas really a lovely wedding. Caroline never looked better in her life. Her veil was of real lace and had been worn many times in the groom's family. The orange blossoms were real—wax covered—her wedding gown of some soft material, had a hoop skirt. The house was lovely—trust Doodle for that—and so on.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Club Jane Cone received a tribute she so richly deserves. An Nan Bland presented her with a lovely silver goblet as a small token of the deep appreciation of Jane's devoted service she read a poem that is so lovely we quote it here:

"For two years you've served us well, And in love with you we fell. Earnest, zealous for the right, With a clear and steady light, And with ideals sweet and pure, You've built that which will endure. Smiling, sweet and ever dear

ONE INCOME THAT'S INCREASED MIGHTILY SINCE 1932!

GEORGIA'S INCOME FROM BEER TAXES IN 1938 $1,238,568 54

IN 1932 (last year before repeal) BEER'S TAXES WERE PRACTICALLY NOTHING!

BEER helps even those who do not drink it! To the tune of a million dollars a day nation-wide, beer tax revenue reaches back into every community, to help pay for relief, for public works, for education... and to lift a burden that would otherwise rest directly on the taxpayers.

To this, add a million new jobs made by beer. And 100 million dollar farm market. How can we keep these benefits... for you and for us?

Brewers of America realize this depends on keeping beer retailing as wholesome as beer itself. They want to help public officials in every possible way. They cannot enforce laws. But they can—and will—cooperate!

The marriage took place in Ridgeland, S. C., on August 23, 1938.

MISS CAROLINE KEA OF SAVANNAH BECOMES BRIDE OF EDWARD BERND

The marriage of Miss Caroline Kea to Mr. Edward Isaac Bernd, of Augusta and Macon, was solemnized quietly and impressively Sunday afternoon, April 23, three o'clock at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Harris M. Bashinski, at 30 Fifth street.

The couple spoke their vows in the drawing room before an improvised altar banked with palms. At each side of the altar were tall baskets of Easter lilies.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Virgie Lee Hilliard, pianist and Mrs. Waldo Floy, soprano, rendered a program of nuptial music. Mrs. Floy sang Cadman's "At Dawn" and "All For You" by Bertram-Brown.

At the entrance of the bride party Mrs. Hilliard played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. During the ceremony MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose" was played softly.

The lovely brunette bride entered on the arm of her brother, Mr. Dawson Kea of Dublin. The bridegroom was accompanied by his best man, Mr. Albert Gelders of Macon.

After the reception the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Florida.

The bride received her education at Statesboro High School, the University of Georgia.

Mr. Bernd, a graduate of Mercer University, is now staff photographer of the Augusta Chronicle.

Attending the wedding from Statesboro were Dr. and Mrs. Waldo Floy, Mrs. Virgie Lee Hilliard, Mrs. Sidney Smith and Miss Ann Elizabeth. Mr. and Mrs. George Bean were guests at the reception.

MRS. JOHN F. BRANNEN REMEMBERED WITH LOVELY PARTY

The hostess assisted by Mrs. John Everett and Mrs. J. C. Watson served a sweet course.

A very strong agriculture program has been carried out by all of the members of the evening, part-time, all-day and day-unit classes of the New Sandridge School, according to R. R. Butler, Jr., principal.

The commencement exercises were the closing point of the term. Sunday, April 16, the baccalaureate service was preached by J. W. White, the pastor of the Bethel A. M. E. church of Statesboro and the commencement address was made by Prof. S. S. Wingfield of the Statesboro High Industrial School.

Requirements For Car Lights Tend To Increase Safety For Night Drivers

In the following paragraphs will be found a statement issued by the Board of the Department of Safety in regard to the requirements of reflectors on vehicles using the public roads and highways of the state.

The Board of the Department of Public Safety, at its meeting today, had under consideration Section No. 5, of Senate Bill No. 23, passed by the last Assembly of the Legislature, with reference to the requirements of reflectors on vehicles using the public roads and highways of the state.

Neither the Board, the Commissioner or anyone connected with the Department of Public Safety, sponsored or sought the enactment of the provision requiring reflectors on vehicles; nor did the Commissioner, nor any one representing the Department of Public Safety, know of the proposed amendment which was only offered as an amendment from the floor last night of the session of the Assembly. The reflector provision, requires both front and rear reflectors.

There is not another state in the union that requires front reflectors on passenger vehicles and most present day automobiles are manufactured with reflector lens in the tail light of the vehicle. Only 21 other states require even one type reflector for passenger cars.

While the Board, the Commissioner and the Department of Public Safety recognize the sound safety effect of having rear reflectors, they do not believe that it was the intent of the Legislature that the department furnish these reflectors because the department is not financially able to do so; nor do we feel that it was the intent of the Legislature that vehicle owners be subjected to a great expense in providing themselves with these reflectors. Patented reflectors submitted to the department for consideration under the terms of the law are so high priced that to require a minimum patented reflector would cost automobile owners several hundred thousand dollars.

Further, the reflector provision lodged in the Department of Safety broad authority with respect to the reflector requirements of the amendment to the safety act. Exercising this authority and belief that it was not the intent of the Legislature to require a large outlay of expense in this provision, the board, the commissioner, and the department of public safety prescribed that the minimum type of reflector to be used on the vehicles, under the said amendment is as follows:

"All vehicles other than those covered by requirements of the Public Service Commission and Interstate Commerce Commission using the public roads and highways in the State of Georgia, at night shall be equipped with such reflectors as the owner of such vehicles can, without undue expense, provide for such vehicle."

In adopting the above minimum requirements, the Board, the Commissioner and the Department of Public Safety leaves the matter to the discretion and judgement of the vehicle owner as to the kind of reflector to be put upon his vehicle; and in doing so feel that it is complying with the provisions of the Act.

It must be borne in mind that already the Interstate Commerce and Public Service Commission require reflectors of certain types on common carriers operating in both, inter and intra state commerce which clearly eliminates the hazards of these vehicles on the highways insofar as the reflector amendment to the Act is concerned.

The Department has approved certain types of reflectors. It has been presented for approval because it found they meet the present reflector requirements for trucks and passenger vehicles in other states.

In the interest of safety, it is recommended that all vehicle owners secure for rear reflectors the types that will afford as much protection as possible in event the light should be extinguished.

F.C. Franklin Converts Cotton Land To Grazing

Believes That Hog Raising Better Money Product

That hogs can replace cotton is being clearly demonstrated by F. C. Franklin in converting some 100 acres in cultivation from cotton production to temporary grazing, permanent grazing and feed for livestock. Some three years ago this young farmer assumed the management of his father's 300 acre farm, of which about 50 per cent is in cultivation. Chalmers, as Mr. Franklin is known, did not feel that he could make this farm pay by continuing to plant cotton. Although there were a few hogs on the farm, Chalmers gradually added to the start his father, D. B. Franklin had made.

A few good blooded gilts were saved for breeding purposes. Then Red Gypsy, Gypsy Queen, and Red Prince were purchased from an outstanding pure-bred Duroc Jersey here as a foundation for a good pure-bred herd. Mr. Franklin has continued to add outstanding pure-breds from other herds, as well as those he saved from his own, until he now has 35 sows and gilts for breeding purposes. Some 200 small pigs ranging from 40 to 80 pounds may be seen grazing in the temporary pastures about the farm at the present, of which 125 head are "blue bloods" of the highest breed available in the Duroc Jersey line. Chalmers selects his herd sires as for the type that would breed the best to the sows he has. He plans to be in the pure-bred hog business entirely within a short time and thinks that under normal conditions he should be able to sell 700 to 800 head of hogs each year from this farm.

Hog farming is a diversified business, according to Chalmers. Some of them are sold for meat purposes; 4-H club boys and farmers from Bulloch, Screven, Effingham, Bryan and Evans counties buy the small pigs and breed gilts. The first three months of 1939 his breeding stock sold returned him the equivalent of the proceeds from 15 bales of cotton. To see the some 250 cherry red pigs raising in the 40 acres of oats that they are now on, a passer-by would think Mr. Franklin had gone into the pure bred business in a big way while, as a matter of fact, he has grown from one gilt and is gradually going into the pure-bred breeding business which he thinks is the only way he could ever get into it because of the excessive initial cost for purchasing breeding stock.

From the oats these pigs are going to a soy bean field, then to an early corn field followed by more corn and soybeans, and then to the corn, peanuts and velvet beans.

The demand for breeding stock was so heavy that Mr. Franklin did not sell a gilt for slaughter in 1938. However, the major part of the income from livestock on this farm in 1938 was from finished hogs.

Car Owners With No Tags Will Be Arrested

"Have you ordered your tag?" Georgia state troopers started asking this question of motorists Monday and all who could not submit proof that the order had been made were arrested and were turned over to the sheriff of the county in which they were apprehended.

Troopers are "clamping down" on improper tags at the request of the Georgia Legislature which asked permission of Phil Brewster to send his men into every nook and corner of the state and see that all tags have been bought for 1939.

Persons who have loaned one of the tags to a friend will find themselves prosecuted for violating the law and all troopers are instructed to take up the tags if both are not affixed to the car and mail the old tags to the Revenue department.

The violation of the motor vehicle tag law is punishable as a misdemeanor, and fines can range as high as $100 with a jail sentence as high as six months. These are the maximum penalties judges may give violators.

The troopers also being strict enforcement of the new 35-mph. an hour speed limit, and of the law which now requires that all accidents involving $50.00 damage or more or an injury or death be reported to the Highway Patrol.

A new cotton crop is in the making and interest of Georgia farmers once again is concentrated on how to make the most money out of the fleecy staple. What will the price be? These are questions in the minds of all Georgia farmers as they go about the business of making a cotton crop.

With cotton up or coming up throughout the state, the next job ahead of Georgia farmers is to fight the boll weevil. By starting early and doing the job right, an intelligent fight on the boll weevil can add thousands of dollars to the value of Georgia's cotton crop. Where boll weevils are numerous in the fields before the squares begin to form, these early, over-wintered weevils can be killed by making from one to three pre-square applications of calcium arsenate. The pre-square poisoning may be done by using calcium arsenate dust or by mopping the cotton with a mixture of calcium arsenate, kerosene and water.

After cotton begins to square, regular inspection should be made of the fields. If many weevils are found, calcium arsenate dust should be applied. Wait about five days and then inspect the fields closely again. If weevils are still present, apply two additional applications of calcium arsenate dust five days apart. Most farmers know how to mix the sweetened poison and to use the calcium arsenate dust. Those who do not can get the simple directions from their county agents.

In order for boll weevil control methods to be most effective, it is necessary that all of the farmers in a lot to save their own crop regardless of what all their neighbors do. The reason this is true is that usually there is not much movement of weevils from field to field until the migration period begins about mid-summer. Therefore, farmers who do early poisoning will obtain protection for their bottom crop regardless of whether their neighbors poison. But what would be of most value to everyone concerned would be for all farmers who can possibly do so to poison.

Crisp, Cold and Attractive Salads Hold the Spotlight in Spring and Summer

Spring days are salad days, for fresh young vegetables supply combinations ranging from an assurance of crisply curled lettuce and ruddy tomatoes to a garden variety of mixed greens. Let your imagination run riot in assembling spring salads, and remember only two rules: Greens should be cool, fresh and crisp; all other ingredients should be chilled. To retain the garden freshness of vegetables, refrigerate them all promptly. Materials suitable for salads, other than vegetables are fruits, raw or cooked, meat, fish, fowl, cheese, eggs and herbs.

The popularity of salads depends largely on their versatility and the variety of purposes they accomplish when included in the menu. Salads add eye appeal, present a pleasing variety of color, texture, and tasteful flavors, and provides an appetizing, attractive means of introducing the necessary minerals and vitamins into any meal except breakfast! It may be served (1) as an appetizer, (2) as an accompaniment to the main course, (3) as the main course, and (4) as a dessert. Salad mixtures may be light or hearty, tart or sweet, simple or elaborate. The type chosen is determined by other foods to be served in the same meal.

RULES FOR SALAD SUCCESS
Regardless of their position on the menu or their ingredients, all salads should have these characteristics: They should be crisp, cold, colorful, possess a distinctive flavor, and be interesting in form and texture. All the ingredients for the salad should be chilled, but they are assembled just before serving. The dressing is added just before serving or served separately, since dressing causes the salad greens to wilt.

Mrs. R. L. Cone Makes Annual Report To Woman's Club

As president of the Statesboro Woman's Club I submit the following report:

"At the beginning of the fiscal year 1938-39 the Statesboro Woman's Club was still feeling an indebtedness of $500.00. We were not alarmed in the least for we had steadily and rapidly reduced the original debt of twelve hundred dollars and we felt calmly sure that there would be no club debt remaining at the end of the year."

"One of the first activities of the New Year was the Benefit Bridge, put on by the Benevolence Committee, Mrs. Booth, chairman. This delightful affair netted the committee their pledge of $25.00."

The Citizenship Committee sponsored an open forum on two long remembered occasions. The speaker for the first of the occasions was Ralph Ramsey, Secretary of the Georgia Education Association. This forum was held with the Chamber of Commerce as host. The second forum was held with the Woman's Club as sponsor, and Miss Emily Woodward of "Emphire" was the speaker. These forums brought to the members of the Chamber of Commerce and the Woman's Club a consciousness of the tremendous importance of open discussion of the important issues of the day. This committee entertained Miss Woodward with a lovely luncheon preceding the meeting at the club home."

The Club Home committee has been one of the most efficiently functioning committees of the club. Mrs. Murray, the committee chairman, has worked unceasingly and with so little "ado" I feel obligated to say in this report, that this committee has brought in from club rentals an unbelievably large income for the club. This committee has seen to the welfare of the club home and in general has rendered most efficient services."

"The Education Committee, Mrs. B. B. Morris, chairman met with Mrs. T. Lanier, Federal district supervisor of Childhood Education, and has sponsored various projects in that field of education."

"The Fine Arts Committee, under the leadership of Mrs. Gilbert Cone, chairman, has held study groups once a month and as a profit project, the Committee put on a Cabaret, from which made quite a good sum of money. This was really one of the High Lights of the year."

"The Garden Committee, under the leadership of Mrs. H. P. Jones, has beautified the club grounds with dozens of pieces of shrubbery, which bid fair to make the club grounds a very beautiful place within two years. This Committee looked after the City Parks and sent flowers to the sick on dozens of occasions."

"The Membership Committee, with Mrs. Bert Ramsey as leader, has increased the club membership to the largest number in the history of the club."

"The Program Committee, under the leadership of Mrs. H. P. Jones, has given to the club this year, by far the most interesting and enjoyable series of programs in the history of the club."

"The Public Welfare Committee, with Mrs. C. M. Destler, as Chairman, has sponsored open house for our young people. This we feel, is a definite move towards a greater Statesboro, and greater Citizenship building."

"The Social Committee, with Mrs. Lester Martin as Chairman, has sponsored the Christmas party for the elderly ladies of Statesboro. This beautiful occasion was probably the most unique high light of the year. About sixty-five ladies of the age of sixty-five and above attended this lovely affair. The beauty of the club home, on this occasion will be long remembered. The outdoor supper on April 14, was also sponsored by this Committee."

"The $500.00 debt on the Club Home was paid in full in December 1938. The Open Air Supper of April 14th marked the celebration of the clearance of all debt on the Club Home. On this occasion the note was burned and we rejoiced that debt for the Statesboro Woman's Club was a thing of the past."

SURE SIGN OF SPRING

Maybe you've seen a robin. Maybe you're watching for robins to come up or buds to open.

I figure I've got a better way than any of those to tell when spring is here. I watch my wife. When she begins peeking into corners, staring at the rug, the curtains and the woodwork, when she acts as if she'd like to move the sofa and put it where the piano is, when she asks me to be a pal and get off that old worn rubber and get set for a bubble driving enjoyment all spring and all summer. Let me show you Goodyear's tires to fit your purse as well as your car. You'll be glad of the old bus on new rubber.

Primitive Baptists Begin Meeting May 8

Elder Thomas O. Thomas of Fla., to Preach

The Statesboro Primitive Baptist Church has arranged a meeting which will begin Monday night, May 8th, and continue thereafter through the second Sunday, May 14. Morning and evening services will be held throughout the meeting.

Eld. Maurice T. Thomas of Jennings, Florida, will be present to do the preaching. Eld. Thomas was with this church in their special meeting last year and was well liked by the church and visitors, and they will extend to him a hearty welcome in this return engagement. He is young, able, an effective speaker, and possesses a charm of rare ability in the presentation of the truth of the bible.

Every member should endeavor to lend every spiritual assistance to this meeting, as well as temporal; and every friend and visitor will find a hearty welcome in these services.
